From the Editor ...

On July 28, 1787, approximately a year and a half before George Washington was elected as the first President of the United States of America, 81-year-old Benjamin Franklin famously addressed the Constitutional Convention after it had hit a deadlock following five weeks of deliberation. The larger states were demanding that congressional representation be based on population. The smaller states wanted a one-vote-per-state rule. According to James Madison's notes, Franklin stated the following:

The small progress we have made after 4 or 5 weeks, close attendance & continual reasonings with each other, our different sentiments on almost every question, several of the last, producing as many noes as ays, is a melancholy proof of the imperfection of the Human Understanding. We indeed seem to feel our own want of political wisdom, since we have been running about in search of it. We have gone back to ancient history for models of Government, and examined the different forms of those Republics which having been formed with the seeds of their own dissolution now no longer exist. And we have viewed Modern States all round Europe, but find none of their Constitutions suitable to our circumstances.

In this situation of this Assembly, groping as it were in the dark to find political truth, and scarce able to distinguish it when presented to us, how has it happened that we have not once thought of humbly applying to the Father of lights to illuminate our understandings? In the beginning of the Contest with G. Britain, when we were sensible of danger we had daily prayer in this room for the divine protection. Our prayers were heard, and they were graciously answered. All of us who were engaged in the struggle must have observed frequent instances of a superintending providence in our favor.

To that kind providence we owe this happy opportunity of consulting in peace on the means of establishing our future national felicity. And have we now forgotten that powerful friend? Or do we imagine that we no longer need his assistance? I have lived a long time, and the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth--that God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without his notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without his aid? We have been assured in the sacred writings that, 'except the Lord build the House they labour in vain that build it.' I firmly believe this; and I also believe that without his concurring aid we shall succeed in this political building no better than the Builders of Babel: We shall be divided by our little partial local interests; our projects will be confounded, and we ourselves shall become a reproach and bye word down to future ages. And what is worse, mankind may hereafter from this unfortunate instance, despair of establishing Governments by Human wisdom and leave it to chance, war and conquest.

I therefore beg leave to move that henceforth prayers imploring the assistance of Heaven, and its blessings on our deliberations, be held in this Assembly every morning before we proceed to business, and that one or more of the Clergy of this City be requested to officiate in that Service.” (Benjamin Franklin’s Request for Prayers at the Constitutional Convention. 1787, July 28. Retrieved from beliefnet.com/resourcelib.)

Fast forward 227 years to the November 13, 2014 story of the day: “U.S. House of Representatives Bows to Allah as Muslim Imam Delivers ‘Prayer’.”

“Friday was Muslim day in Washington D.C. We have no idea why or how, but Muslim Imams and prayers were everywhere, invading the Christian National Cathedral and the floor of Congress.

In the morning, an unheard-of sacrilege occurred in the National Cathedral, which allowed Muslims to hold an Islamic prayer service within its dwelling. No mosque in the world would even consider Christians to do the same.

One woman stood up to denounce the gathering and to remind all that this was a Cathedral to Christ, not a mosque — of which there are dozens within a few miles of the site.

But the most stunning event occurred just after lunch, when Speaker of the House John Boehner permitted a Muslim Brotherhood-linked Imam with suspected ties to a terrorist to give the invocation — opening prayer to the day of business in the House.

Imam for the Islamic Center of Central Jersey (mosque) Hammad Chebli delivered an Islamic prayer praising Allah from the House floor.

And worse yet, Boehner and others actually BOWED as he read his Muslim ‘prayer’.” (Cassini: U.S. House of Representatives Bows to Allah as Muslim Imam Delivers Prayer. 2014, November 16. Retrieved from toprightnews.com.)

We can certainly say that since July 28, 1787, the United States has come a long way, a long way indeed. After Benjamin Franklin’s incredibly inspiring lecture to his fellow statesmen and the long held blessings that God provided America, we see the exponential decline of this once so powerful country. We see war, violence, starvation and sadness around the world and here in America. We’ve come to expect Christians to be persecuted in other countries, but now we see this happening in America. Men do not want God in their lives. The very first man, Adam, rejected God, His laws and the Tree of Life, thus surrendering eternal life. Adam chose to disobey God and rule himself, and, unfortunately, the world has been paying a heavy price since. We are in the end-time and, sadly, we now see the fruits of man’s labor. The United States and the entire world are in absolute chaos. People are frightened, they are angry at the way this country has been led, and they are standing up, ready to fight. But once again they are looking to man, and it is much too little and much too late.

In 2 Timothy 3:1-4 we see the characteristics of mankind in the last days:

“ [They] shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God.

Many have a form of godliness, but they deny God’s power by looking to their own power instead. There has been no time in history when this is more evident and more prevalent than in the present, not only in the overall population of America, but especially in our leaders.

Seven years ago, many in the United States thought the great hope for America was Barack Obama. We can see that didn’t turn out well at all--just the opposite. Now, yet another movement is underway toward the election of Donald Trump for President of the United States this coming November 8, 2016.

The only real hope for America and the world today is one of Supreme hope. Jesus stated in Matthew 24:22, “...but for the elect’s sake those days shall be shortened.” Christ will return before mankind destroys the earth and everyone on it. But before He does, humanity will come to the very brink of disaster. God is not going to intervene until men realize that they cannot govern themselves. Man, woman and child will come to realize that they cannot be happy until they live by God’s laws, commandments and statutes. Benjamin Franklin came to this conclusion over 228 years ago, and now our leaders could not care less. They fail to see it. America and the world still refuse to rely on God, and they will continue to refuse until it's too late. Then, only God's intervention will prevent the total destruction of mankind.

In this month's issue of The Midnight Cry, Mr. Wallace Lawton describes America's history with Iran and possibly the worst deal (under the direction of President Barack Obama) in the history of America. In a related article, "The Writing Is on the Wall," Mr. Reuben Lister outlines examples since the 1960s of America's loss of God's blessings, and warns that God will continue to remove His blessings from the U.S.

America is repeatedly losing at everything, and it is on the brink of disaster. And looking forward to November 8 is not the answer. A new movement IS coming. But it's not the GOP, and it's not whoever the Democrat Party can pull out of its hat. It IS the return of Jesus Christ. When Christ comes in all His Supreme glory and splendor, He will be King of Kings and LORD of Lords. Mankind will be forced to rely on the great Creator, not on himself any longer, and it truly will be the beginning of real peace and happiness.

Does God Still Heal Today?

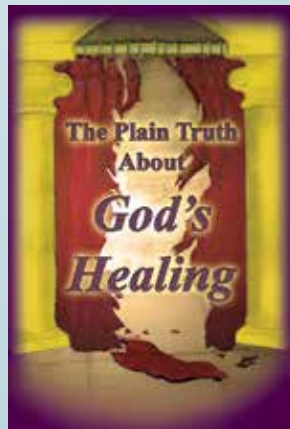

Have you heard of any really dramatic, miraculous healings happening in the Church today? How many people do you know that have been amazingly healed of a life-threatening illness or disease? Do we hear of the blind miraculously being given their sight or the lame running and leaping for joy? Do you know of any who have been raised from the dead?

Fantastic, miraculous, spectacular healings occurred in the first century through the ministry of Jesus Christ—and by His apostles and disciples!

“And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover”
(Mark 16:17-18).

Does that scripture apply only to those believers of the first century? Are we not believers today? Yet, so many are sick and need healing—and some have died—just as I Corinthians 11:29 states. What does “not discerning the Lord's body” mean? Do God's people really understand and apply all of the Biblical instructions regarding true healing?

Does God have a definite, set time for miracles, signs, and wonders to dramatically begin again as a sign—to identify where the True Church of Jesus Christ is today?

The wonderful answers to these questions are joyfully presented in the pages of this booklet and come directly from the Word of God! This is NEW TRUTH given by the grace of God our Father and from the knowledge of Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior (II Peter 3:18).

Prince of Persia

by Wallace Lawton

January 16, 2016 was a landmark moment for many of God's people as they reflected on the thirtieth anniversary of the death of God's apostle and end-time Elijah, Herbert W. Armstrong.

For several years, Gerald Flurry, Pastor General of the Philadelphia Church of God, predicted that momentous things would happen as each anniversary of Mr. Armstrong's death came around. But as the years rolled by, nothing significant took place on that date.

But this year will be the exception!

January 16, 2016 was a landmark moment for the Middle East and the world. It was Implementation Day. On that day, America's nuclear agreement with Iran went into effect, and economic sanctions were lifted from the terrorist-sponsoring state.

In his column, Charles Krauthammer said that January 16...

...marked a historic inflection point in the geopolitics of the Middle East. In a stroke, Iran shed almost four decades of rogue state status and was declared a citizen of good standing of the international community, open to trade, investment and diplomacy. This, without giving up, or even promising to change, its policy of subversion and aggression. This, without having forfeited its status as the world's greatest purveyor of terrorism... Overnight, [Iran] went not just from pariah to player but from pariah to dominant regional power, flush with $100 billion in unfrozen assets and virtually free of international sanctions."

Dr. Krauthammer said that Iran will receive billions of dollars from oil trade, that contracts on military deals with European companies are already being signed, and that President Hassan Rouhani is now predicting five percent annual economic growth, after years of financial malaise and contraction. Krauthammer concluded:

Cash-rich, reconnected with global banking and commerce, and facing an Arab world collapsed into a miasma of raging civil wars, Iran has instantly become the dominant power of the Middle East.

He may as well have used the words "king of the south," a phrase straight from the prophecy in Daniel 11:40.

In the last couple of months, Iran has tested ballistic missiles capable of carrying nuclear payloads, in blatant violation of United Nations resolutions that should have set off economic sanctions. Rather than announcing plans for new sanctions, however, the White House announced an indefinite delay of those sanctions.

Now, in hindsight, it looks suspiciously like one of the main reasons for the delay was to avoid jeopardizing the prisoner swap. On January 17, one day after the trade, the U.S. imposed the sanctions pertaining to Iran's ballistic missiles.

Recently, Iran displayed footage on national television of a new underground cache of precision-guided missiles. The Obama administration ignored nearly unanimous calls by both parties of Congress to act. Then Iran seized two U.S. Navy patrol boats in the Persian Gulf, and took ten sailors hostage and filmed them having to drop to their knees at gunpoint and apologize for "trespassing." For that, the Obama administration thanked Iran for letting the sailors go without further incident and once again hailed it as an example of diplomatic victory.

It requires an extraordinarily distorted perspective to view Iran's current behavior as evidence of its rehabilitation. Reality is precisely the opposite.

Millions of Muslims around the world are convinced that their messiah, known as the Twelfth Imam, is about to arrive on Earth. Israeli leaders fear that Tehran, under the Twelfth Imam's spell, will soon launch a nuclear attack that could bring about a second holocaust and the annihilation of Israel.

The White House fears that Jerusalem will strike first, launching a pre-emptive attack against Iran's nuclear facilities, possibly causing the entire Middle East to go up in flames. In turn, oil prices would skyrocket, and the global economy could collapse. The ongoing naval war games in Iran's southern waters are already demonstrating Iran's ability to close the Strait of Hormuz.

Faith is the lens through which we are watching all these dramatic and tumultuous events, particularly in the Middle East and North Africa. More than 2500 years ago, it was prophesied (Ezek. 38-39) that Russia, Iran, Libya, Sudan and Turkey would form an alliance in the last days to surround, isolate and attack Israel. That type of alliance has never existed, but it is happening now.

The biggest danger we face right now is that Washington will miscalculate and wait too long to neutralize the Iranian threat.

Iran is prominent in the news these days. After the 2001 terrorist attacks on America, then President George Bush depicted Iran as one of the notorious members of the now infamous "axis of evil" nations.

Still, most people in the West know very little about Iran, and the vast majority of Americans are completely unaware of the history of Iran's relationship with the United States, and the fact that the region of Iran (Persia) actually has had a long and significant role in world affairs.

While Persia has had ties deeply rooted in world history, the direct American-Iranian relationship only commenced in the late 1930's. Persia joined the allied forces against Germany in 1943, and thus the World War II Mid-East theatre provided the stage that began the rather brief history of the US-Iranian relationship. It is a relationship that has also undergone a complete about-face since the 1970's.

Within the scope of this remarkable turn in geo-political affairs in the international relationship between Iran and the United States, are a host of highly significant factors relative to the prophesied signs of the times, and imminent world events in these last days.

2,548 years ago the prophet Daniel first came into contact with the empire of the Medes and Persians. On a fateful night in 536 BC, while Babylonian King Belshazzar and his ruling company partied in drunken revelry, Darius, King of the Medes, and his armies diverted the Euphrates River and entered the fortress palace of Babylon and destroyed it. Thus, as Babylon receded into ancient memory, Persia stepped to the forefront of world power.

Iran, the land of the Aryans, has a long and rich history. Some of the world's most ancient settlements have been excavated in the Caspian area and on the Iranian plateau. Village life began there around 4000 BC (Post-Edenic era). The Aryans appeared in the region about 2000 BC and split into two main groups, the Medes and the Persians. But the geographic region that we know today as the modern state of Iran has been dominated in history by five principle powers. The first tribe to dominate this region was the ancient Elamites, or the descendants of Elam. The next four contenders for pre-eminence in Iran for the first 4000 years were the Assyrians, the Babylonians, and finally the Medes and Persians.

One of the most controversial Bible passages regarding Persia is found in Daniel, chapter ten, where Daniel has prayed and fasted for 21 days, and then an angel appears to him. The angel comes and tells Daniel that he, Gabriel, was dispatched by God 21 days earlier (when David began his prayer & fast) but was "withstood" by a demonic force that he refers to as "the prince of Persia."

“ And, behold, an hand touched me, which set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands. And he said unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling. Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Persia. Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for yet the vision is for many days. And when he had spoken such words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb. And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength. For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me. Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me. Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come. But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince (Dan. 10:10-21).

The Prince of Persia was the angel of darkness that represented the Persian world power to which Israel was then subject. Gabriel goes on to say that Michael the archangel came to help him. After giving Daniel the visions, Gabriel concludes by saying that he will have to contend with another prince of the power of the air, "the prince of Grecia" (Greece).

The fact is that there are battles ensuing in the heavens over earthly events! Every nation on earth is involved in a supernatural struggle, and each nation has unseen agents from the angelic world assigned to it.

For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places (Eph. 6:12).

A principality is a powerful ruler, or someone in absolute authority. The word may refer to human rulers, angels, demonic spirits, or any type of ruler other than God Himself.

So, Iran, or Persia, has been in the center of an unseen warfare from ancient times. Daniel, being highly favored of God, was privileged to have God pull back the curtain of history and time and briefly expose Daniel to the wars that continue in the heavens, and that affect events on the earth. Daniel prayed for insight into the meaning of the visions God had given him about the future of his people Israel.

Daniel's visions reveal the fact that there are mighty fallen angels called demons that influence earthly leaders. And under God's permission, they even control them. The true "prince of Persia" was able to hinder God's archangel Gabriel. It was only with the help of the archangel Michael that Gabriel was able to subdue his hindrances.

"The world will not fall away from truth—they have no truth to fall away from." But many of those who have been invited to the Wedding Supper certainly can ... AND HAVE!

The archangel Michael is said to be the special guardian angel of Daniel and the Israeli people.

“ And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time (Dan. 12:1).

This does not mean that we condone everything Israel does. However, we understand that there is an eternal Abrahamic covenant that applies to the nation today, and Israel still has a prophesied role during the end times.

It is no secret that the Iranian government sees the current unrest in the Middle East as a signal that the Islamic messiah is about to appear. This is a very grave development and it gives us a window into the thinking of the Iranian leadership. They believe the time for war with Israel may be sooner than others had imagined.

This idea has not only been written of in the Koran, but it has also been prophesied in the Bible. Both talk about the end of this age with the introduction of a Messiah, albeit from VERY different perspectives.

In Islam, the Mahdi, or Guided One, is the prophesied redeemer of Islam who will stay on Earth seven, nine, or nineteen years (depending on the interpretation) before the coming of the day, Yaum al-Qiyamah (literally “Day of the Resurrection” or “Day of the Standing”).

Muslims believe the Mahdi will rid the world of error (non-Muslim thinking), injustice and tyranny, alongside Jesus. The concept of Mahdi is not explicitly mentioned in the Qu'ran, but there are many Hadith (traditional sayings of Muhammad) on the Mahdi.

The idea of the Mahdi is important to Sufi Muslims, and it's a powerful and central religious idea for Shia Muslims who believe the Mahdi is the Twelfth Imam, Muhammad al-Mahdi, who will return from his present state of “hiding.” The concept has gained a strong hold on the imagination of many Muslims worldwide.

Iran's ex-president, Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, who presently could be positioning himself to enter the 2017 Presidential race, has suggested that Jesus would return to the world along with the emergence of the descendant of the Islam's holy prophet, Imam Mahdi.

It is well known that Ahmadinejad sees himself as the chosen one to bring forth the twelfth Imam—to “pave the path for the glorious reappearance of Imam Mahdi.”

The suggestion that Jesus and the twelfth Imam will return to Earth at the same time is something new and quite disturbing. Ahmadinejad sees Jesus and Mahdi working together to “wipe away every tinge of oppression, pain and agony from the face of the world...[the Mahdi] will reign on earth for seven years before bringing about a final judgment and the end of the world.”

But a proper understanding of Bible prophecy reveals a very different end-time scenario. The booklet, The Book of Revelation Understood at Last, reveals the true outcome of end-time events. Call, write for or download your free copy today. ❖

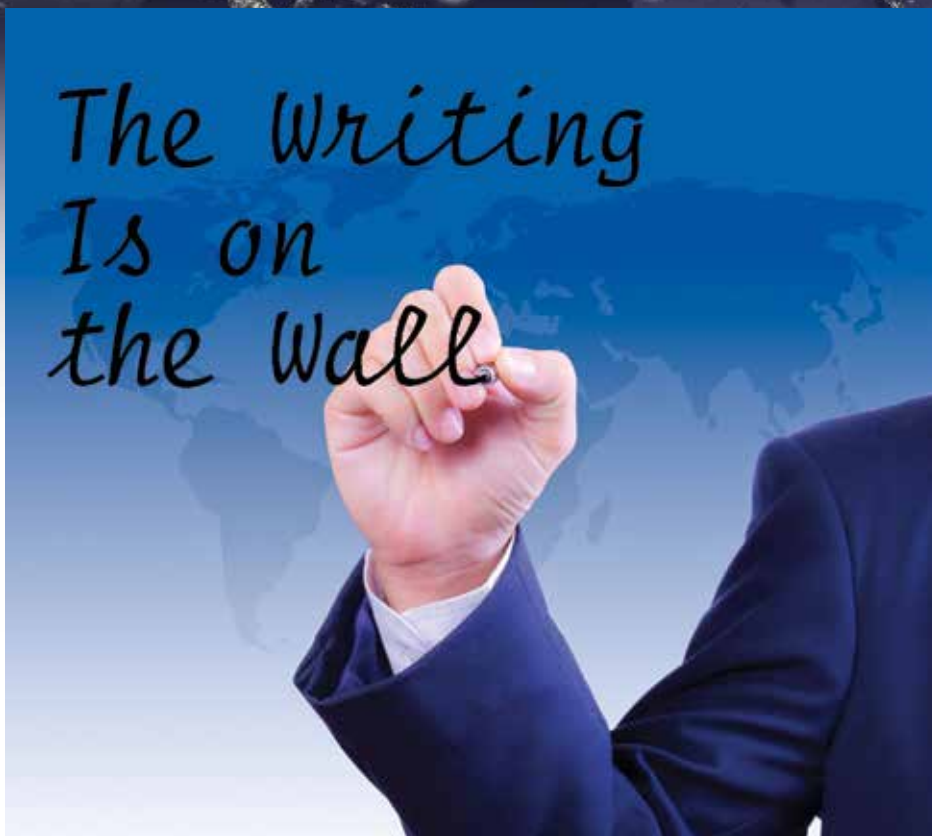

The Book Of Revelation UNDERSTOOD AT LAST!

Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand. (Rev. 3:1)

Conditions nationally and worldwide will become more and more severe. The world is teetering on the rim of the greatest time of trouble ever in man's history. But God has a WORK that will be done – the greatest WORK of GOD in New Testament times.

If God has opened your spiritual eyes, you will now be able to UNDERSTAND the BOOK of REVELATION – and God's plan for you!

by Reuben Lister

Just before 8 o'clock on the morning of December 7, 1941, a Japanese commander radioed to his pilots these three words: "Tora! Tora! Tora!" These words are now etched into history as the words that signalled the successful Japanese surprise attack on the American naval base in Hawaii. That day, 360 Japanese war planes attacked Pearl Harbor without warning, completely surprising the Americans. Within minutes of those three infamous words being uttered, bombs and torpedos wreaked havoc on the ships at anchor in Pearl Harbor. President Roosevelt called it "a day of infamy."

The Japanese achieved at least one of their objectives, total surprise. But there were no aircraft carriers in the harbor, and damage to the naval dockyard base was relatively minor.

Another amazing fact is that, of the ninety ships in the harbor when the attack took place, American technology and skill were able to raise and repair all but three of the damaged or sunken ships. The Arizona and the Utah were destroyed immediately; the Oklahoma was later raised and then lost again. That was a remarkable achievement. (Information from "The U.S.A. Department of Defence 50th Anniversary of WW2.")

Could these coincidences—the failure to do any major damage to the dock facility, the absence of aircraft carriers at Pearl Harbor and the amazing ability of the United States engineers to rebuild all but three of the damaged ships—really be just coincidences, or something bigger?

This surprise attack forced the USA into the war that Britain, France and Poland had been involved in since September 1, 1939, when Hitler invaded Poland. With the addition of the industrial and military might of the USA, it was then possible for the Allies to achieve victory.

The Miracle of Dunkirk

In May 1940, during the Battle of France, the British army was encircled by the Germans and were forced to retreat to an area around the port of Dunkirk. Then, amazingly, the German army halted in their attack, and the ensuing lull in the action allowed the British a few days to organize an evacuation. Prime Minister Winston Churchill then gave orders that any boat or ship, regardless of size, was to assist in the rescue of the 338,226 encircled British soldiers, as well as the 123,000 French. It took over 900 vessels to successfully evacuate the troops, and this was described by Churchill as "the miracle of Dunkirk."

The Enigma Machine

At the end of World War 1, a German engineer, Arthur Scherbius, invented the Enigma machine—a machine designed for sending coded messages to the German commanders. The Germans believed the code was impossible to decipher, but in July 1932 three Polish mathematicians—Marian Rejewski, Jerzy Rozycki and Henryk Zygalski—broke the Enigma codes.

In July 1939, just before the second World War broke out, the Poles passed the secrets of the Enigma machines on to British and French intelligence officers and handed over Polish-made replicas of the machine to the British. The British Intelligence at Bletchley Park, the national codes centre at Milton Keynes, England, then went on to develop its own deciphering machine, still using the principle developed by the Poles. Winston Churchill, commenting to King George VI after the war, certainly attributed the winning of the war to the breaking of the Enigma Code.

There are many other “coincidences,” too numerous to mention here, that changed the outcome of the war into victory for the Allies. But the tide has turned, and now it seems we can’t even win an argument (a war of words) with our enemies.

The Tide Turns

On January 23, 1968 Commander Lloyd Bucher was in charge of the USS Pueblo, a 176-foot technical research ship and former cargo ship owned by the United States Navy. It was operating off the North Korean coast when it was captured with 82 sailors on board. This was at the height of the Vietnam conflict.

The 82 sailors were eventually released on December 23, 1968, eleven months after their capture. No attempt had been made to rescue these hostages, nor did the United States military make any attempt to reclaim the ship, which is still held by the North Koreans today. At the time the Pueblo was captured, it was equipped with sophisticated tracking and listening devices, and therefore gave up its secrets to the North Koreans.

On April 1, 2001 a U.S. Navy surveillance aircraft was forced to land in Chinese territory after colliding with a Chinese jet fighter. This surveillance plane was equipped with the latest version of the NATO link communication system, the Link-11 system, which passes information between ground stations and airborne early-warning aircraft. Again, vital information fell into the hands of a foreign power.

On September 12, 2011 North Korea forced an unmanned US spy plane to make an emergency landing by using powerful GPS jamming techniques.

It Just Gets Worse

On December 4, 2011 Iran landed one of the greatest victories against the USA so far, when Iranian scientists successfully took control of the hi-tech RQ-170 sentinel unmanned drone, by spoofing its GPS coordinates and thereby tricking the plane into landing in Iran instead of where it was programmed to land.

The RQ-170 drone is one of the most hi-tech stealth weapons in the US arsenal, capable of flying up to fifty thousand feet high. It was designed to perform intelligence, surveillance, reconnaissance and target accusation missions, as well as provide real time information, including imagery or video to the ground stations.

This very high-tech drone is now in the hands of Iran. Enemy technicians can now glean all the information from this prize that landed safely into the waiting arms of Iran. The drone came gift-wrapped, if you will, with its military secrets intact from the United States of America.

A Tale to Tell

The well-executed raid into Abbottabad, Pakistan, on May 2, 2012, to capture the elusive Osama Bin Laden, the West’s most wanted man, was carried out by the United States elite team of well-trained soldiers called the Navy Seals.

Their mission was carried out successfully, even though one helicopter crash-landed into the compound. Before being evacuated back to base, they were able to destroy all but the tail section of the crashed helicopter. This tail section had broken off just outside the compound during the crash. The mission was considered a great success—they had reached their objective, no Seal was killed and they had their man.

With the loss of only one helicopter, and with none of their own men lost, in a mission as complex and dangerous as this raid was, it would seem that the loss of the helicopter was just unfortunate. However, this was no ordinary helicopter—it was special. Not many people even knew of its existence. This helicopter was stealth-engineered, to quietly go about its duty leaving as little a blip on the radar screen as possible.

The US has demanded that Pakistan return the highly secretive tail section, but this is very unlikely, considering how it came into Pakistani hands. The tail will tell the tale, and reveal even more of the latest technology from the West as it continues to fall into enemy hands.

Another Slap in the Face

The war in Vietnam ended on August 15, 1975 at the cost of 58,220 United States service personnel—a terrible cost in human life, which then ended in defeat. The financial burden to the US taxpayer was in the region of $584 million.

The cost of the war in Iraq continues to bleed the coffers of the United States beyond redemption. Some of the financial facts are these:

1. The initial deployment of troops to Iraq cost nine to thirteen billion dollars.
2. Conducting the war - six to nine billion dollars per month,

3. Returning the troops to the US - five to seven million dollars,
4. Temporary occupation of Iraq - one to four billion dollars per month.

To lose the war in Vietnam was a major slap in the face and an embarrassment to the USA. The mighty United States of America, with all its military power, could have wiped Vietnam off the planet. But it didn't. Why? Why haven't we won in Iraq? A defeat in Vietnam was bad enough, but a second defeat, now happening before our very eyes in Iraq, makes one wonder what is going on! Why can't the US win wars any more, even though it still has the power?

O How the Mighty Have Fallen

Oh, how the mighty have fallen! The British Empire at its peak extended to every corner of the globe; the sun never set on her colonies. Her possessions and wealth were almost impossible to measure. Those were the days when "Britannia ruled the waves." The size and possessions of the British Empire have never been equalled.

Britain's brother across the waves, the United States of America, was the greatest and most powerful single nation on the earth at its zenith. At its peak of military power it apparently took the combined power of the ten most powerful nations to match that of the USA.

The Writing on the Wall

The writing was on the wall at King Belshazzar's feast, as recorded in Daniel 5:5 and 25-30.

In the same hour the fingers of a man's hand appeared and wrote opposite the lampstand on the plaster of the wall of the king's palace; and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote... And this is the inscription that was written: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. This is the interpretation of each word—Mene: God has numbered your kingdom, and finished it; Tekel: You have been weighed in the balances, and found wanting; Peres: Your kingdom has been divided, and given to the Medes and Persians. That very night Belshazzar, king of the Chaldeans, was slain.

The outcome of these prophecies in Daniel came to pass exactly as revealed, and the prophecies about the English speaking nations, found in Genesis, Deuteronomy, Leviticus, Joel, Ezekiel and numerous other sections of the Bible, are just as certain as the handwriting on the wall at Belshazzar's banquet.

The Writing Is on the Wall for Britain and the USA

God said that if we obeyed Him He would bless us beyond measure:

If you walk in My statutes and keep My commandments and perform them, Then I will give you rain in due season, the land shall yield its produce, and the trees shall yield her fruit. I will give you peace in the land, and you shall lie down, and none will make you afraid; I will rid the land of evil beasts, and the sword will not go through your land. You will chase your enemies, and they shall fall by the sword before you, Five of you shall chase a hundred, and a hundred shall put ten thousands to flight; your enemies shall fall by the sword before you (Lev. 26:3-8).

We have received all these blessings and now we have turned our back on God. That is one huge, fatal mistake.

Another Pearl Harbor?

Is it possible that another Pearl Harbor, a surprise attack, will happen to the USA, Great Britain, or the nation called Israel? Could that happen? Would history indeed repeat itself? Ezekiel 7:14 says:

They have blown the trumpet and made everyone ready, but no one goes to battle.

The US was ready for war at Pearl Harbor, but through a series of mistakes no one went to battle. Why does Ezekiel say that no one goes to battle? Could it be pointing to a future Pearl Harbor-type surprise attack, or might our enemies break our "Enigma Codes," compromising our military's secret computer communications satellite systems, our surveillance abilities and therefore control our response, and confuse our weapons? Our enemies surely have their computer hackers working full-time on that plan. Is that the reason no one goes to battle?

Look at Our Wall Now

In everyday life, God's name is constantly taken in vain and He is even mocked. In a recent documentary on the war in Iraq, there was a group of American servicemen with heads bowed down, seemingly in prayer, but actually mocking God by pretending to ask Him to protect them in battle. This prayer was done as a joke by these soldiers, as they were about to go on patrol. They were laughing about it—they thought it was funny. God does not see the funny side, but will laugh at their derision when the time comes. Psalm 2:4 says, “He who sits in the heavens shall laugh; The Lord shall hold them in derision.”

Look at our wall now, because we don't follow in God's ways.

“ But if you do not obey Me, and do not observe all these commandments. I will do this to you: I will even appoint terror over you, wasting disease and fever which shall consume the eyes and cause sorrow of heart, and you shall sow your seed in vain, for your enemies shall eat it (Lev. 26:14,16).

Now notice verses 17 and 19!

“ I will set my face against you, And you shall be defeated by your enemies. Those that hate you shall reign over you, and you shall flee when no one pursues you...I will break the pride of your power.

We also see in Deuteronomy 28:25:

“ The lord will cause you to be defeated before your enemies; you shall go out one way against them and flee seven ways before them; and you shall become troublesome to all the kingdoms of the earth.

Coming Slavery

How much worse can things get for the English speaking peoples? A nightmare of the worst kind—national slavery!

“ Then the Lord will scatter you among all peoples, from one end of the earth to the other, and there you shall serve other gods, which neither you nor your fathers have known—wood and stone. And among those nations you shall find no rest, nor shall the soul of your foot have a resting place; but there the Lord will give you a trembling heart, failing eyes, and anguish of soul. Your life shall hang in doubt before you; you shall fear day and night, and have no assurance of life. In the morning you shall say, Oh, that it were evening! And at evening you shall say Oh, that it were morning! because of the fear that terrifies your heart, and because of the sight which your eyes see. And the Lord will take you back to Egypt in ships, by the way of which I said to you, you shall never see it again, and there you shall be offered for sale to your enemies as male and female slaves, but no one will buy you (Deut. 28:64-68).

These scriptures are written on our nations' walls, and we have been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Sad to say, these prophecies are about to become a reality and it's hard to accept that Great Britain, America, and the nation we call Israel will all be reduced to insignificance. All will go down together, ending in slavery and utter despair.

“ The pride of Israel testifies to his face; Therefore Israel and Ephraim stumble in their iniquity; Judah also stumbles with them (Hos. 5:5).

Set Free from Slavery – The Second Exodus

After all the unimaginable terror that we have just read about, and our nations ending up in slavery in foreign lands, there is good news. God will set our people free from slavery, free forever, never to be enslaved again.

“ It shall come to pass in that day that the Lord shall set His hand the second time to recover the remnant of His people who are left, From Assyria and Egypt, From Pathros and Cush, From Elam and Shinar, From Hamath and the islands of the sea (Isa. 11:11).

“ For it shall come to pass in that day, says the Lord of hosts, that I will break his yoke from your neck, And will burst your bonds; and foreigners shall no more enslave them. Therefore do not fear, O My servant Jacob, says the Lord, Nor be dismayed O Israel; For behold I will save you from afar, And your seed from the land of their captivity, Jacob shall return, have rest and be quiet, And no one shall make him afraid (Jer. 30:8-10).

Review:

Vital Truths Concerning Passover

by Robert Ardis

With Passover only weeks away, here is a short summary of some of the vital truths we have learned or reviewed recently about the important subject of God's True Passover

- The Hebrew word "ba erev" is translated in many places in the Old Testament as the English word "even" or "evening." However, by allowing the Word of God to define "ba erev," we found in the article, The Quails of Exodus 16 that "ba erev" means sunset—the end of the day!
- In the article it is also made plain that another Hebrew term "ben ha arbayim" is mistranslated as "even" or "evening" by Strong's Exhaustive Concordance in eleven different places in Moses' writings. Yet it is correctly translated as "dusk" by the Jewish Publication Society or as "twilight" in Young's Literal Translation of the Bible. The 1965 Bible in Basic English also properly translates "ben ha arbayim" in Ex. 12:6 as: "Keep it [the Passover lamb] till the fourteenth day of the same month, when everyone who is of the children of Israel are to put it to death between sundown and dark."
- For Ex. 12:6 the KJV renders "ben ha arbayim" as "evening," but in their margin it correctly states the term as "between the two evenings."
- The Holy Scriptures make it very clear that Passover occurs on the 14th of the first month and the Days of Unleavened Bread commence on the 15th. Num. 28: 16-17 declares: "And in the fourteenth day of the first month is the Passover of the LORD. And in the fifteenth day of this month is the feast: seven days shall unleavened bread be eaten."
- The Passover on the 14th and Days of Unleavened Bread beginning on the 15th are two different occasions, but unleavened bread is used in both of them. On the Passover the unleavened bread represents the broken [ripped and torn] BODY of Jesus our Savior. The unleavened bread eaten during the seven Days of Unleavened Bread picture sincerity and truth!
- The original Passover lambs were to be slain "ben ha arbayim" [between the two evenings] as the sun set [ba erev] on the 13th of the first month. Again, see the February 2010 Midnight Cry article, The Quails of Exodus 16.
- The lamb was then prepared and roasted and its blood smeared on the doorposts and lintels of the homes of the Israelites.
- The Passover lambs after roasting were eaten in haste somewhere around 10 to 11 PM along with bitter herbs and unleavened bread.
- The Eternal as the Death Angel "passed over" the homes that were "under the blood of the lamb" at the midnight hour of the 14th. Notice Num. 28:16 again—"And in the fourteenth day of the first month is the Lord's PASSOVER"! The Bible says He "passed over" on the 14th – not the 15th!
- If there had been any "first-born" during the original "Pass Over" that were rebellious and stubborn, insisting on keeping the Passover on the next night of the 15th, they died in their stubbornness by the hand of God at midnight on the 14th. What a lesson for today!
- After the Lord "Passed Over" their homes the Israelites were commanded to stay in their homes until morning (Ex. 12:22).
- Pharaoh called for Moses in the night to come to him (v.30-34), but Moses could not leave his house till morning as had God commanded.
- As the morning arrived, the Israelites left their homes and spoiled the Egyptians in haste preparing to leave (v. 35-36). The Israelites had been doing this since God had brought the plagues upon Egypt, but apparently completed their spoiling of Egypt as they prepared to depart (see Ex. 3:21-22 and 11:1-3).

- Preparing to leave as the morning of the 14th came was a monumental task of organization, although it must have been already pre-planned. And let's add here that IF the Passover had occurred at midnight of the 15th, they could not depart by night as the scriptures tell us because they were not to leave their homes until morning! Therefore they would be leaving in the daylight portion of the 15th and the night time portion of the 16th—biblically incorrect and impossible!
- Two to three million Israelites, now released from slavery, in addition to their flocks and herds had to gather in an orderly fashion and begin their march out of Egypt. The scriptures are plain that they left Egypt on the NIGHT of the 15th: "And they departed from Rameses in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the morrow AFTER the Passover the children of Israel went out with an high hand in the sight of all the Egyptians. For the Egyptians buried all their firstborn, which the LORD had smitten among them: upon their gods also the LORD executed judgments." (Num. 33:3-4).
- Add to this Ex. 12:41-42: "And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even the selfsame day it came to pass, that ALL the hosts of the LORD went out from the land of Egypt." [For these MILLIONS to leave in an orderly fashion it required the daylight portion of the 14th to assemble and ALL of the night of the 15th to have ALL of the Israelites to make their march out of Egypt.] "It is a night to be much observed unto the LORD for bringing them out from the land of Egypt: this is that night of the LORD to be observed of all the children of Israel in their generations."

- This night to be observed is the beginning of the Days of Unleavened Bread the 15th of Nisan—the day that begins at sunset on the "morrow" AFTER the Passover (Num. 33:3). It is biblically impossible for the "Pass Over" to occur on the night of the 15th, then stay in their homes until MORNING and still leave by NIGHT!
- Jesus Christ is the Lamb of God slain from the foundation of the world (Rev. 13:8) and He is our Passover (I Cor. 5:8). He changed the emblems of the Passover from the slain lamb to the unleavened bread and wine to represent his beaten and torn body and His spilled blood.
- Jesus kept His last Passover at the precise time between the evenings of the 13th and the 14th and true Christians are commanded to keep it as he instructed on that Passover evening.
- The apostle Paul was inspired to write in I Cor. 11:23 "For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed..." Jesus our Lord on the true Passover Night became the Passover Lamb by changing the emblems to symbolize His Body and Blood. He tells us to observe this in memory of Him.
- Prov. 14:12 tells us: "There are ways that seem right to a man but the ends thereof are the ways of death." No commands or instructions are given for commemorating 3:00 PM on the afternoon of the 14th as the time of Jesus' death! The Passover lambs were to be slain between the evenings of the 13th and 14th—not at 3:00 PM! The temple sacrificed lambs beginning at 3:00 PM on the 14th is a TRADITION of the Jews instituted hundreds of years after the commands in Exodus 12. Nowhere in the Bible are instructions to observe 3:00 PM, but it seems so right to do it to some very confused people.

- There are no commands to observe Jesus' resurrection either, but it seems so right to more than a billion people as they celebrate the pagan Easter in "honor" of Jesus. All of these ways of man and his traditions produce vain and confused doctrines of demons, but in their self-righteous deception they love those Satan inspired traditions more than they love the Word of God (II Thess. 2:9-11)!

I will close this article by quoting from I Corinthians 5 using part of verse 7 and all of verse 8:

“...For even Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us: Therefore let us keep the Feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

Have a truly inspiring Passover on Thursday evening, April 21, 2016; then have a wonderful Night to be Much Observed and Days of Unleavened Bread. ❖

Also Edom shall be a desolation: every one that goeth by it shall be astonished and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof. As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it. (Jer. 49:17-18)

Americans Skeptical Of God But Think Heaven Is Real, Somehow

The United States formally separates Church and State, but it's hard to deny that America is inundated with religious innuendo, from its controversial pledge of allegiance all the way down to its Judeo-Christian courthouse displays and faith-espousing legal tender. Yet fewer Americans pray or believe in God than ever before, according to a new study in the journal Sage Open..

Researchers found that the percentage of Americans who claim they never pray reached an all-time high in 2014, up five-fold since the 1980s. Over the same time period, belief in God and interest in spirituality appears to have similarly declined, especially among young adults.

The findings suggest that, "millennials are the least religious generation in memory, and possibly in American history," says Jean M. Twenge, psychology professor at San Diego State University and coauthor on the study, in a press statement. "Most previous studies concluded that fewer Americans were publicly affiliating with a religion, but that Americans were just as religious in private ways. That's no longer the case, especially in the last few years."

One odd quirk, however—Americans have become slightly more likely to believe in an afterlife, even as they are abandoning prayer, belief in God and rituals. This, too, is perhaps a telling sign of America's newfound relationship with old-time religion. "It might be part of a growing entitlement mentality," Twenge said. "Thinking you can get something for nothing."

http://www.vocativ.com/ ...

Comments: Apparently Americans are abandoning prayer, belief in God and rituals and yet more believe in an afterlife. The Bible is God's Word and is filled with reports of an afterlife for humans in the Kingdom of God. Where else would you go for information about life after death? The Bible also says we must pray. The Apostle Paul instructs us to "pray without ceasing" (1 Thess 5:17).

"And it came to pass, that, he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

And he said unto them, When ye pray,..." Luke 11:1-2

Christ, of course prayed to his father, and he said to his disciples "When" ye pray, not "if". Belief in God's, God's Word, the afterlife and prayer all go together, how can you believe in one and not the others?

"And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint," Luke 18:1

Our prayers won't always be answered at once, yet we must not faint (give up). Rather than abandoning prayers, Americans should be more persistent in prayer. This will also help them to have more understanding of an afterlife in the form of The Kingdom of God.

NASA/Kepler Mission Scientists: "We Have No Idea Why Our Solar System Is So Unusual"

Since the time of Copernicus, scientists have slowly moved Earth out of its originally-conceived setting as the center of the Universe. Today, scientists recognize that the Sun is an average star—not too hot, not too cold, not too bright, not too dim—situated at a random spot in a typical spiral galaxy. So, when Kepler began its planet-hunting mission in 2009, scientists anticipated finding planetary systems that resembled our solar system.

Instead, Kepler mostly discovered planet types that our solar system lacks. With bodies like "hot Jupiters" (Jupiter-sized planets that orbit their star in only a few days) to "super-Earths" (massive rocky planets far larger than our own), exoplanet systems have a knack for surprising observers. Of the 1,019 confirmed planets and 4,178 planetary candidates identified to date, only one system resembles our own with terrestrial planets near the star and giant planets set at a distance.

“We have no idea why our solar system doesn’t look like these others, and we would love an answer,” planetary scientist Kevin Walsh, of the Southwest Research Institute in Colorado, told Astrobiology Magazine.

http://www.dailygalaxy.com/ ...

Comment by editor: Perhaps if these scientists were to look into the Holy Bible they may find their answer!

Comment: What a great comment by this article’s editor. Surely it is far more scientific to believe in creation than evolution.

“In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth...

And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heavens to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years:

And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

And God made two great lights: the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.” Gen 1:1. 14-16

Why cannot top scientists understand the simple explanation given by God’s Word? That very Word, the Bible gives the answer.

“And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient.” Rom 1:28

Eu Referendum: Barack Obama To Urge Britons To Back Remain Vote On Uk Visit

Barack Obama will jet into the UK next month and use his star power to convince Britons they should vote to stay in the European Union.

Mr Obama’s visit will also help restore relations with Mr Cameron. In an interview last week, the US president accused the Prime Minister of being “distracted” over the Libya campaign.

A No 10 source confirmed that Mr Obama will make his intervention and visit the UK as an extra leg of a trip to Germany next month. He is scheduled to open the Hannover Messe 2016 technology fair on 24 April.

The source said: “Barack Obama is coming over at around that time. You wouldn’t look stupid saying that [the President is going to tell British voters to stay in the EU]. It would be pretty shocking if he didn’t ask voters to stay in the EU.”

http://www.independent.co.uk/ ...

Comment: What Mr Obama’s influence has on British people’s view on Europe is open to debate. What senior government officials do not seem to understand is the future of the EU. That future is a future of extreme danger for the whole world.

Europe rides the Beast! A statute right outside the EU headquarters in Brussels shows a pagan goddess named Europa (from which Europe takes its name) riding a bull.

“So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication.” Rev 17:3-4

The danger is that this despicable beast, or system of government is of the devil and Satan and who will be able to make war against him?

Thankfully, a more powerful being, the creator of heaven and earth will make war with this system, and win!

It would be helpful if Mr Obama and the British government believed this.

Golden Hammer: U.S. Sends China Millions In Foreign Aid Despite $1.3 Trillion Debt

China has become one of the world’s largest two economies, and is wealthy enough to buy up at least $1.3 trillion of the U.S. debt. But that hasn’t stopped Uncle Sam from continuing to send foreign aid to Beijing.

In 2014 the U.S. State Department and its USAID program provided nearly all of the $12.3 million in taxpayer-funded aid set aside for China. And another $6.8 million is on tap for Beijing this year, according to ForeignAssistance.gov.

In the big picture of things, China’s aid package — mostly centered around pollution and pro-democracy programs — is a mere drip from a foreign aid spigot that has been as great as $50 billion annually in recent years. But taxpayer watchdogs say it's a classic example of the U.S. government not being able to reign in aid on projects whose effectiveness is immeasurable and could easily be funded by the country itself.

"The idea that China needs this foreign aid, and that it can make any difference in China, is laughable," said Ian Vasquez, director of the Center for Global Liberty and Prosperity at the Cato Institute, a libertarian think tank.

"In essence, what we're doing is borrowing from China and giving some of that money back to China, so it's a loan with interest. This is an expensive way to do business," Mr. Vasquez said.

<http://www.washingtontimes.com/...>

Comment: What is it with many Western countries that feel the need to give massive financial aid to other countries when their own national debt is out of control and many of their people are suffering financial deprivation? The incredible thing about the U.S is that they are borrowing from China to enable them to give some of that money back to them in aid, and for that, aid which they do not need!

And not only that, this is not what God intended for America.

"For the LORD THY God blessed thee, as he promised thee, and thou shalt lend unto many nations, but thou shalt not borrow; and thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee." Deut 15:6

God blessed the modern nations of Israel so that they would be able to help other nations but it has all gone wrong and God tells them why.

"The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.

He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

Moreover all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD thy God to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee: Deut 28:43-45

Attempt To Re-Create 'Big Bang' Begins March 2015 - Will Gates Of Hell Soon Open To The Destruction Of All Creation?

With the reopening of CERN's 'large hadron collider' in March of 2015, two leading and well respected scientists, theoretical physicist and cosmologist Stephen Hawking and Astrophysicist Neil de Grasse Tyson, have recently issued independent warnings that, when looked at through the eyes of the supernatural war taking place right now upon our planet Earth between the forces of good and evil, send us a clear message: "This is it!". The reopening of CERN will bring together scientists playing with unknown forces, attempting to recreate the 'big bang', as shared in the 1st video below, the moment of the creation of the universe.

Dr. Stephen Hawking recently warned that the reactivation in March of CERN's large hadron collider could pose grave dangers to our planet...the ultimate reality check we are warned. Hawking has come straight out and said the 'God particle' found by CERN "could destroy the universe" leaving time and space collapsed as shared in the 2nd video. Is CERN the most dangerous thing in the cosmos that could lead to the ultimate destruction of the Earth and the entire universe? Recent developments prove to us the scientific community is no longer able to explain 'reality' without looking at the 'supernatural'. Will we soon learn CERN is really the 'ultimate stargate' and one of the gate-keepers most closely guarded secrets? Will this be the way man attempts to break the ultimate 'God barrier', an attempt to encounter demi-God's in an all-out rush towards the destruction of all creation? We understand they won't be releasing the secrets until they're prepared to release them.

Does CERN headquarter's symbol of Shiva, dancing the cosmic dance of death and destruction, signal the TRUE purpose of CERN's existence? A look at the 'Shiva' (the Hindu God of Destruction) symbolism surrounding CERN's headquarters gives us the beginning of what we need to know. "The men who would play God, in searching for the God particle, are truly going to find more than they bargained for as they open the gates of hell" we are warned by Stephen Quayle, "they will find inter-dimensional beings who have a taste for human flesh and humanities destruction. Most scientists, in lacking an understanding of the 'supernatural entities' that are going to confront them, are way beyond their ability to comprehend, let alone control, the forces of Pandora's box that will be released."

Astrophysicist Neil de Grasse Tyson has also sounded the alarm in a hypothetical manner by telling anyone who might want to 'blow up a planet' how to do so...is this CERN's attempt to do so by attempting to 'recreate' the big bang within a man made structure that has frightened Stephen Hawking so much? Do they know that they know that they know what they're doing?

Comment: This sounds like science fiction - because it is! God will not allow the earth to be destroyed by mankind. In fact the Bible tells us the meek shall inherit the earth.

"But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace." Psa 37:11

Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth." Matt 5:5

Perhaps intelligence, educated, high-minded people, might like to contemplate those verses. Meek: to be gentle, kind, not easily provoked, but not as used in the bible in the bad sense of tamely submissive and servile.

God's servant Moses was very meek (Num 12:3) and yet God used him mightily, even speaking to him mouth to mouth and not in vision as with other prophets. This man will inherit the earth prepared for him, and for other faithful servants by the God of the Universe.

There never was a "big bang" and there won't be in the future. God created the heavens and the earth and is in the process of creating God-beings now. No scientist, or anyone at all will be able to stop God's great plan from going ahead. We can all take comfort in that.

Report: Islamic State Planning 'Imminent' Attack on Jewish Children in Turkey

JERUSALEM – Information obtained by intelligence officials and cited by Sky News indicates Islamic State terrorists are in the advanced stages of an active plot to murder Jewish children in Turkey, including with attacks on kindergartens, schools and youth centres.

Sky News further reported:

Information on what intelligence officials are describing as "an imminent" attack was obtained from six operatives from the "Caliphate" who were arrested in the southern city of Gaziantep over the last week.

The most likely target of an attack is Istanbul's synagogue in Beyoglu which also has a community centre and a school attached to it.

One intelligence source told Sky News that "in light of these circumstances, extraordinary security measures are being taken above and beyond the high alert level already in place by the Turkish police, as well as vigilance within the Jewish community."
